City Donates Recycling Balers to Kerr County

Kerrville, Texas (October 14, 2015) – On October 14, 2015, the Kerrville City Council authorized the donation of the City's recycling balers to Kerr County. The balers, which were originally obtained through a grant from the Alamo Area Council of Governments (AACOG), were used at the former Community Recycling Center and were no longer needed. The new site at the Transfer Station does not require balers and therefore are being donated to the County. Donating these balers allows the City to be in compliance with AACOG in a manner in which the equipment is being donated to another governmental entity. In addition, Kerr County will utilize the equipment for the original purpose intended, which is to help reduce waste and increase recycling.
